

PEOPLE AND EVENTS

H. M. Orin was a visitor in Lincoln the early part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Woodhurst are expected to return from the west to-day.

Miss Corrie Nelson is expected home from Boston the latter part of next week.

C. C. Hawkins has been spending the week in Lincoln, going down Sunday night.

Dr. Dick and Charlie Baker made a trip to Denver this week. Denver is booming.

Miss Julia Schatz is home from Jacksonville, Ill., where she was attending school.

Bernard Beer went to Michigan a few days ago and it is rumored he will return with a bride.

Will Boggs, Jr., returned Saturday from a year's attendance at school in Burlington, Vt.

F. C. Spangnath of Warren Valley was in the city several days this week on land office business.

Master Arthur Hoadland returned Sunday from three weeks' visit with friends in Logan county.

Father Barrett came down from Sidney Tuesday to assist in making the Catholic fair a success.

Miss Kate Bentley entertained a number of friends last Saturday evening in a very pleasant and agreeable manner.

Smith Clark returned Thursday morning from his visit to New York. Mrs. Clark will remain in the state for several weeks yet.

Mrs. A. Wals and Mrs. Andrew Sherman, residents of the north side, left for Denver Tuesday morning on a two week's visit to friends.

George Patterson leaves for Denver to-morrow to enter a commercial college. George is a bright and apt boy and has a bright future before him.

C. D. Kelly and Miss Mattie Hodges, both late residents of this city were married in Denver Saturday. They will take up their residence in Cheyenne.

Mrs. F. A. Shepard returned Thursday night from an extended visit with her parents in Council Bluffs. As a result of her visit she is in the best of health and with her customary smile.

Miss Maudie Mason returned from the Penn Normal School Monday night and was gladly welcomed by the large circle of friends. Miss Mason graduated from the primary department with credit, having received a teacher's certificate, good in this state for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gillett arrived in the city Tuesday night and will spend a week or more with friends here. Mr. G. has been located for some time at Cairo, a town on the G. L. & W. C. railroad, serving in the capacity of station agent.

It is going the rounds that a prominent railroad boy and a stylish hardware clerk will shortly become benefactors. They have already purchased lots in the second ward.

County Attorney J. L. Neff has accepted an invitation to deliver a course of lectures on the law at Lincoln, at which point the course is to have a routine character. North Platte is furnishing its share of oratorical talent this year.

A. F. Streitz returned Wednesday from Grand Island, where he had been to attend a meeting of the examining committee of the Nebraska State Board of Pharmacists, of which committee he is First Vice-President.

Jim Henderson and M. L. McCulloch were in from Elsie the early part of the week. We understand the boys have struck it rich, the town site having been laid out on land very near their claims.

Miss Carrie Brown arrived home late last week from Paris, where she has been attending the State Normal School. At the commencement exercises Miss Brown read an essay entitled, "Current and Fossil," which was highly praised by the large number present. She graduated from higher school.

This office is in receipt of an invitation announcing the coming wedding nuptials of R. D. Lamson and Miss Flora Blackburn, the ceremony to occur next Wednesday at York. Miss Blackburn is well known in this city, having taught in the schools for several years. The couple will make their home in Elwood, Gosper county.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Byerly on Tuesday evening very pleasantly entertained the B. C. and D. classes of the high school, the guests over whom Mr. B. presided during the past year. It is scarcely necessary to state that the evening was most happily spent and that those attending will ever remember it with pleasure.

Miss Nellie Conway and J. Kirk Baldwin were quietly and unostentatiously joined in holy wedlock Thursday morning at St. Patrick's church, at about 10 o'clock, by Father Conway, brother of the bride. Miss Nellie Conway performed the duties of bridesmaid and F. J. Conway that of groom. The only other witnesses the ceremony were Mary Conway, Katie Moran, Julia Schatz, Mary Redmond, Nellie Walsh, Mrs. Redmond and Father Barrett. The happy couple's congratulations to the newly wedded pair and home they may live long and prosper.

Mr. and Mrs. I. K. Neely arrived in this city Monday and proceeded to the Platt ranch south of the city where they will make their home. This couple were married at La Salle, Ill., on the 8th inst. Mr. Neely is well known in North Platte, having at one time been book-keeper in Foot's store, and later occupied a similar position in Mr. Redmond's office. Shortly after the death of his brother-in-law, H. B. Platt, Mr. Neely left the office and accepted the superintendency of the Platt ranch, a position he is now holding. The article, which was in the Tribune, is known to a number of our people, having appeared in the city last year. Mr. Neely is a man of intelligence and charming qualities and well adapted to fill the position of a model wife. To this couple the Tribune extends its most hearty wishes for a long life full of joy and happiness.

During the past week a number of bad holes in the side streets have been filled with dirt. Our streets in the course of time will be in excellent condition.

The favored spot in Lincoln county this year so far seems to be the Bad Willow country where all kinds of crops are flourishing. There has been some rain so far this season for all kinds of vegetables.

Several persons just returned from Colorado report an extensive and severe drought in that state. In those places where they have irrigating canals there are some fears that the water will give out. Water is very low in the upper Platte river.

Dave Potter was in from the Birdwood Friday proving up on his homestead. He reports a large emigration into that part of the country.

Henry Wilkinson we believe is the first to ship wool from this point this season. He brought in a large wagon load yesterday.

Fishing on the Birdwood is not so good as it was, but bathing in Lamplugh's lake is said to be good.

The sidewalk on the north side of Fifth st. is making rapid progress. That thoroughfare will shortly be the "boulevard" of the city.

There is a well founded rumor floating around that in less than sixty days fifty additional men will be put to work in the shops in this city.

Most of the contest cases now instituted on land in the eastern part of this district are of considerable importance, as the land becomes more valuable the fight for possession being waged with more zeal and warmth. It took over a week lately to take the testimony in a contest on a piece of land lying near Gethenburgh.

The books and the work of transcribing the records for the Sidney land office are about completed, and it is expected they will be ready for delivery by the first or second of July. The Sidneyites can celebrate the Fourth with a new land office.

Rev. Gring lectured at the Presbyterian church again Sunday evening, giving a description of the Japanese country, climate, government, etc. We thought some of going over to Japan to spend our summer vacation, but after hearing his description don't believe we will.

A little green apple hung up in a tree. Calling Johnie, come Johnie, come Johnie; And it was as modest as modest could be. Calling Johnie, come Johnie, come Johnie; And Johnie came in his sweet childish way. And he ate up that fruit as his own lawful prey. The angels in heaven are singing to-day: Here's Johnie, here's Johnie, here's Johnie.

Hot Weather. It is out of the order of things to have what may be termed a "hot" term in June, but that is what we have had this year. Last week was a scorcher all over the country, being several degrees hotter in Illinois than the hottest day of last year. The temperature at this place was not as high as we have experienced on several occasions, but owing to peculiar conditions of the atmosphere, and especially the wind, it seemed to be very oppressive. The hot wave having passed the temperature has resumed its normal condition for this season of the year.

A number of people had a big time—some might say a high time—at Lamplugh's lake last Sunday. In the morning a wagon loaded with beer and decorated with flags and evergreens, paraded the streets and was escorted to an open town in the direction of the North River bridge. It was soon followed by the disciples of Gamberina, and from the number of carriages that went out during the day—a mathematical figure—up to the number of seventy—they are evidently legion. The day was spent by the picnicers in a very happy manner in boating, in song and games, and—oh, several ludicrous scenes took place. One gentleman of large proportions riding in a boat with some women, was accidentally thrown in the water, creating a tide wave that imperiled the lives of promenadeurs upon the gravelly beach. Another gentleman accidentally fell from a boat and became entangled in the net used for a time arousing fears of drowning. He was rescued and soon recovered from the effect of his involuntary bath. The festivities continued until quite a late hour in the evening.

Owing to the poor acoustic properties of the opera house, THE TRIBUNE would suggest to manager Lloyd that in the future when there is to be a recitation of some kind instrumental music be allowed the piano to be placed on the stage. Only those who have had experience realize how difficult it is to sing when on a level with the audience; when vocalists go to the trouble of preparing music they naturally desire to render it in the best possible manner and if there is any possible assistance that might add to their benefit it should be granted. In behalf of those who kindly consent to furnish music for public entertainments this suggestion is made with the hope that it will be favorably acted upon.

There was a good attendance at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning to hear the children's services. Sunday, June 12th, was observed among the Presbyterian churches throughout the country as children's day, but on account of a delay in receiving music and paper, the school in this city was forced to postpone their services until last Sunday. The singing, recitations, etc., by the little folks was very good and appreciated by the audience. Rev. Gring also delivered an address to the children.

The pyrotechnic display on Fourth of July evening will be the largest and finest ever seen in this city, several hundred dollars having been invested in fireworks of different designs. The display this year will be confined to large pieces, costing from $5 to $25 each. It will be worth coming from a distance to see.

C. E. Osgood returned from Iowa Sunday night on the Cleveland Bay Station, which in the opinion of the boss editor of this journal is one of the finest ever imported into this country. Mr. Osgood examined a number of herds in Illinois and Iowa and finally selected this one. The animal at present weighs over 1,000 lbs. and is of a fine color, and is remarkably fine action, and is free of any blemish whatever.

Andrew Flynn died Tuesday of inflammation of the bowels at the Denver railroad hospital to which institution he was taken several weeks ago. The deceased was employed as an engineer between Grand Island and this city for six or seven years and was well known to our people. The remains were taken to Grand Island Thursday for interment.

The people of Opatilla are to have a big celebration there on the Fourth—a celebration by the people of Grand Island. The chief of this city has been invited to deliver the oration and has accepted the invitation. Judge Church's fame as an orator is extending. He will give the people of Keith County an oration worthy of hearing and worthy of the day.

Small grain and vegetables are not growing as they should, the trouble being not so much for the want of rain but on account of high winds and hot weather. Corn has stood the trying ordeal well and looks splendid. The weather for several days past has been comparatively cool, and the atmospheric indications are favorable for rain. Thursday evening there appeared to be an extensive rain fall west and south of us, but at this point it was light. A big general rain is what is wanted.

A fire broke out at the rear of Bird's barber shop Sunday afternoon about 4 o'clock and the fire persons who happened to be in the vicinity had quite a lively time for some ten minutes or so on that matter. The fire was soon subdued, without causing much damage. It appears to have originated from the furnace used to heat water for the bathroom, and is the second one that has come from that source.

"The Fair News" is the name of a new little daily that is being published by the Catholics during their fair week. The editors have made it right easy of course it is printed at THE TRIBUNE OFFICE.

The Gothenburg Independent learns that Postmaster Spangnath of the post office bearing his name will be before the Lincoln County Republican convention as a candidate for sheriff. There seem to be more candidates for that office than for any other on the list.

Remember we have the largest and most complete stock of Furniture in the city and we defy anyone in this line to undersell us.

CONWAY & KEITH. From the number of broken carriages and buggies, Sunday picnics should be popular with blacksmiths and wagon makers. They have been busy making repairs this week.

Several of our livery men became uneasy at the protracted absence of their teams last Sunday. One man went out to see what was the matter and concluded he didn't get any too good.

Otterstedt, Hershey & Co. have erected a Goodhue windmill in front of their warehouse and a watering trough is placed where thirsty animals can have water at any hour of the day. Farmers and stockmen are thankful for this act of kindness on the dumb brutes.

The Daily Fair News gave our public spirited people a lecture on the 21st. The News would have been a lecture on the 21st. Some of them have been asleep, sure enough.

In spite of the efforts to stop them, parties are still obstructing the irrigating ditch and overflowing the land above—the difference being that they work in the night time now. These nocturnal fishermen may be caught yet.

There has been an unusual amount of drunkenness about the city for the past week. Landgraf & Waltham's saloon is frequently a place of boisterous merriment, and the near neighbors are beginning to consider it a general nuisance.

As a fitting wind-up of the day a public ball was given at the opera house on the evening of the Fourth. The probabilities are it will be a warm night, but this will not deter any from going. The temperature has no effect on North Platte people.

Only a few more Quick Meal Gasoline Stoves left and we cannot get any more until July 25th. Call early before they are gone.

CONWAY & KEITH. Mr. Dixon, the popular livery man in the Third Ward, has found it necessary to enlarge his stable on account of increase of business. The livery business is in a flourishing condition.

Prof. Allwine will shortly open a private school in the central school building, thus affording scholars an opportunity to go ahead with the studies they pursued during the past term.

The game of ball on the Fourth was won by the C. E. Mayne club of Omaha and the nine of this city will undoubtedly be a good one. Playing will begin at half past four in the afternoon.

MURDER.

Fred Fischer Killed at his Home on Brady Island.

On Sunday last Fred Fischer was found dead in the brush near his house on Brady Island. He had evidently been murdered. There is considerable mystery surrounding the case. The coroner's jury is still in session, and only outside testimony can be gathered.

It appears that on Monday, the 13th, Fischer went up to the house of one Moran, who lives on the island some seven or eight miles up the river from Fischer's, to get some tools to put down a well. He stayed at Moran's over night, returning home Tuesday morning, being accompanied part way by Louie Keyant, alias French Louis, who lives two or three miles east of Moran's. He had made arrangements to commence driving a well-pipe Wednesday morning, and John Johnson, who was to help him in the work, went to Fischer's house, and stayed until nearly noon when Fischer not appearing, he concluded that Fischer had gone to look after his fish lines. (Fischer was a great fisher). Returning on Thursday Fischer was still absent, and had apparently not been at the house since Johnson had left there the day before. A neighbor by the name of Abercrombie, who lives two miles below, called about the same time, and some search was made for Fischer, but no traces could be found, and other neighbors were notified. The search was continued Friday and Saturday without success.

On Sunday John Shney and Gus Goerkey came over from the south side of the river to use Fischer's branding chains to brand some cattle. Goerkey had at one time been employed about the National cemetery, and it was not long before he detected the unmistakable smell that emanates from a dead human corpse. The body was soon found in the brush some four or five rods from the coral in an advanced stage of decomposition. Information was immediately telegraphed to this city, and Sheriff Haley, in the absence of Coroner Streitz, accompanied by Attorney Nesbitt, Dr. Donaldson and Longley, and E. B. Warner, started early Monday morning for the scene of the tragedy.

An examination of the remains revealed the fact that the man had been shot through the body, the ball entering a little to the right of the center just below the heart, passing out by the side of and tearing away a portion of the backbone. The head of the bullet was in the base of the brain had been smashed with some blunt instrument. The murder had apparently taken place near the coral, and the body dragged by the feet through the brush to the place where it was found, the shirt being pulled up around the neck, and one boot nearly off. The trail could be easily traced through the brush, but all traces of blood and evidences of a struggle had been carefully removed. The present facilities for the removal of the body were not adequate, a bunch of weeds in one place having been cut and carried away, probably to conceal blood. The dead man's pipe and hat were missing, and could not be found.

It is evident that the man had been committed for money. Nothing about the house was disturbed. About five dollars in money was found in his trunk. From these circumstances a motive is hard to find, although the killings have aroused suspicion, but nothing has developed that will warrant arrest. The coroner's jury consists of Drs. Longley & Donaldson, Wm. Plummer, E. B. Warner, Joshua Snyder and Abram Brooks. Some testimony was taken on the spot, but the jury returned to this city, and was in session Tuesday afternoon, adjourning until the 30th inst. The jury is determined to get all the evidence that will possibly throw any light as to the probable perpetrator of the crime.

Frederick Fischer was a German by birth, about fifty years of age, and was one of the early settlers of this country, having been about here for some twenty years, taking a claim on the island where he was killed some seventeen years ago. He was unmarried. The body was buried under a large cottonwood tree said to be the largest tree on Brady Island. His house, where Fred had often expressed a wish to be buried. He has no relatives in this vicinity.

A Fortunate Bargain. A quartette of young gentlemen—one of them is married, but scarce a twelve-month has passed since the golden knot was tied, and the others are about to enter the matrimonial life. When they learned that the time had expired, the boys didn't let any grass grow under their feet until they had the bargain clinched. It is a very fine property, and three new houses are expected to be built thereon in a short time.

The Nebraska Farm Loan and Trust Company of North Platte. Articles incorporating the above company were filed in the office of the County Clerk Wednesday, June 22nd, at 10 o'clock. The capital is $100,000, with the privilege of increasing to $500,000. The company will commence business July 15th. The incorporators are the following gentlemen: John Bratt, Louis Burke, C. F. Iddings, Wm. Neville, Wm. Grady, T. J. Foley, Wm. B. Conklin, Samuel Goozee.

Bro. Walsh of the Nebraskaian has been short-handed for the past week or so. We can sympathize with him, for we know how provoking it is to be compelled to press short of the well-earned local page we have promised to furnish our readers. THE TRIBUNE having been short of help a few weeks ago.

Married. June 15, 1887, by Rev. Adam Stump, Mr. Joseph Steele to Miss Amelia Gabest, both of Sunshine, Neb.

June 18, 1887, by Rev. Adam Stump, Mr. Chas. E. Margelith to Mrs. Annie Kneer, both of North Platte.

I will sell until July 1st, at private sale, furniture, carpets, stoves, chinaware, piano, etc., (most everything new) at very low prices. Mrs. G. A. Van Dyke, Second Street, four blocks west of court house.

Broken Bow, like North Platte is wrestling with the water-works problem. Our neighbor, however, seems to be grappling with the matter in a business way.

GO TO RENNIE'S clearing sale. As an evidence of the prosperity of the newspaper business, we notice that "The Pencil" is surprising his house with a new coat of paint. He is bound to keep abreast of the times.

Some of our merchants complain of dullness of trade, but we notice there is a good trade from the country. A number of wagons are loaded every day, mostly from points north and north-west.

By a very clever manipulation of small tin dishes, the artist at Conway & Keith's establishment has made a unique and tasty sign in the plate glass windows. In the glare of the electric light the letters show off in pretty shape.

But this young maiden's father swears That she must not wed; And he's a bigger man than Phelps Just now—in Buffalo.

Chicago Tribune. A regular meeting of the city council was held Monday evening, although at a time there was no business to be transacted.

Not about half past 9 the Mayor called for order, when a roll call disclosed that Oberst, Roche, Blankenburg and Snyder were present. The minutes of last regular meeting were read and approved; also minutes of special meeting of June 13.

Warren Lloyd's petition asking that the license tax on the opera house be reduced was taken up and it was agreed that the tax for the current year should be remitted. This raised the question of egress from the building, all being unanimous that the present facilities for getting out of the building in case of fire or panic were entirely inadequate. After a brief discussion a motion was adopted requiring Mr. Lloyd to construct a door eight feet wide on the west side opening out on the street.

The communication of the Sperry Electric Light Company relating to street lights, also coming up as unfinished business, its consideration was deferred.

The proposal of the city publishers relating to publishing ordinances and such other matter as may be required by the city was read and accepted. It provides that the publishing shall be done in the three papers for one legal rate.

A communication was received from citizens of the Third ward, asking the appointment of Alex. McCallum to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of councilman Hook. It was placed on file and then the council adjourned.

On Sunday last two young men were drowned in a lake at St. Joseph, Mo. The bodies of a man and two young ladies were drowned while boating at Kearney. About the same time, on our own artificial lake at Lamplugh, two young gentlemen were thrown beneath the raging billows but were rescued by the heroic efforts of the life saving crews. This reminds us of the dangers of water.

Butter has become almost a drug not only in this market but all over. In Denver, usually a high market, it is a prime article that will bring thirteen cents, while Omaha, St. Joe and other Missouri river markets see still lower. In our market a good article has been bringing 25 cents on contract with families, but the price is now fallen to about 20 cents. Good prime butter will keep and always bring a good price, but unfortunately most of our people are not fitted for making choice butter, and have no facilities for keeping it when made. The consequence is they are obliged to force their products in the market when there is the greatest supply, and the price falls way below remunerative returns. At present our merchants cannot ship, there being no demand, and most of our people being supplied by private parties, there is very little retail trade. During the past week there have been several instances of parties bringing butter long distances and were obliged to take it home again. This is unfortunate, but it is not the fault of our merchants, who would willingly buy if they could possibly get as yet their hands.

As yet this journal has received no official notice from circus managers relative to their showings in this city. It is given time, a discount of twenty or twenty-five per cent will be made from list price of lots.

C. M. C. Woolman, Agent. SURPRISED! That is the condition of every one who visits the store of Snelling & Son and learns prices. They are saving more money for the people of North Platte than any other institution in the city. Call on them for bargains.

Mr. Seidenham, the baker who has been doing business on Leavitt Street, will shortly move into the New building on Spruce street, an oven having been built for that purpose this week.

James Dunn, who resided eighteen miles south of Opatilla, met with an accident last Friday afternoon which caused his death. He was leading a cow by a lead rope, when he got tangled in the rope. The cow started to run, jerking him down with such force as to fracture the skull. The head of about two hours but was not conscious after the accident. He had no family but resided with his sister on a homestead. He was interred in the cemetery at this place Sunday.—Register.
